We'll assume, from your interest in American Coach products, that you've owned a few motorcoaches before. Maybe even yachts, race cars, or airplanes. But in all your travels, we suspect you've never gripped the wheel of anything quite like this. The 1999 American Heritage. Forty-five feet of boundless luxury, imagination, and power all rolled into one truly exhilarating vehicle. Climb aboard. Cast your inhibitions to the wind. And never slow down again. Life, after all, was meant to be lived at full throttle.

WANT TO SEE 12 ENGINEERS CRY LIKE A BABY? RELEASE 45 FEET OF SPORTY STYLING ONTO THE OPEN ROAD.

Okay, so our engineers were a little emotional when the first American Heritage rolled onto the highway. You'd be choked up, too, if you'd spent the last three years of your life trying to make an impossible dream come true.

But today, the proof is before you. Presenting the 1999 American Heritage — the first vehicle ever to combine the sporty styling of a touring bus with the comforting price range of a high line motorcoach.

It all started three years ago with a clean sheet of paper, a room full of American Coach owners, and several pots of coffee. We asked current owners what they'd like to see in a new top-of-the-line motorcoach.

What should it look like? What's the right length? Do you want to spend more time in the kitchen or less? What luxury features do you prefer? How can we improve the cockpit? And so on.

Our goal was to create a whole new kind of luxury vehicle from the ground up.

Mission accomplished. The 1999 American Heritage is everything you asked for, and then some. It looks like an expensive touring bus, for instance, but it carries a price tag that's nowhere near high-end bus country.

And, while it's built on a custom-designed Spartan® chassis like every American Coach product, the American Heritage is a good five feet longer. So there's extra room for all sorts of delightful surprises. Like over 43,000 pounds of carrying capacity. Twin pass-through

New from the ground up, the American Heritage is a stunning example of what can happen when talented minds are allowed to roam freely. The 45-foot coach was researched, designed, and built entirely in Decatur, Indiana, by a special project team.

These twin, pass-through slide-out trays will swallow up just about anything you feed in — ten-speed bikes, golf clubs, inner tubes, and so forth. Each eight-foot tray holds up to 1,000 pounds of cargo and conveniently slides through to the opposite side of the coach.

As convenience would have it, all water hookups are located in the same brightly lit compartment. For quick cleanups, there's also a wash-down station with hot and cold water, a spray nozzle, a soap dispenser, and a paper towel holder.

Imagine the world as seen through this immense, bus-style windshield. It's 50" tall and 100" wide for all-out visibility. At night, a powered windshield curtain provides added privacy. And on frosty mornings, the Aqua Hot™ hydronic furnace graciously defrosts the windshield while you're still asleep.

To protect the paint on your beautiful bus front, you can choose this optional Lexan® bus armor. The clear acrylic shield does the same job as the standard vinyl bra cover, but with a little more panache.

With tires as big as these Goodyear® 11R/22.5" steel belted radials, the American Heritage rides a little higher off the ground. That's why it's equipped with a two-tier power entry step, like most buses.

Exquisitely designed, the American Heritage features smooth fiberglass sidewalls, chrome and stainless steel accents, and your choice of 12 different color schemes. Also note the liberal use of awnings. You'll find them above the patio, bedroom windows, front door, and slide-out.

Welcome to one of the best engineered doorways we've ever seen. Ours comes with a thoughtful awning, a deluxe entry handle and porch light, a no-rattle screen door, and a unique front entry door with three separate locking mechanisms: keyless, deadbolt, and air locks. For added safety, the door has extra large windows that allow you to see small cars and pedestrians down below.

compartment slide-out trays. An extra awning just for the front door. A sprawling bath area with his and her sinks. And even an available outdoor entertainment center featuring a 27" Sony® color television.

Almost brings tears to your eyes, doesn't it? The 1999 American Heritage. Come see the coach that's changing the look of the open road.

Hoping to watch a little World Cup soccer action while your copilot's at the wheel? Switch on the available Datron® In-Motion Digital Satellite System. It transmits crisp, clear satellite pictures to the TV even though you're buzzing down the highway at 70 mph. It's the same technology found on jet airliners.

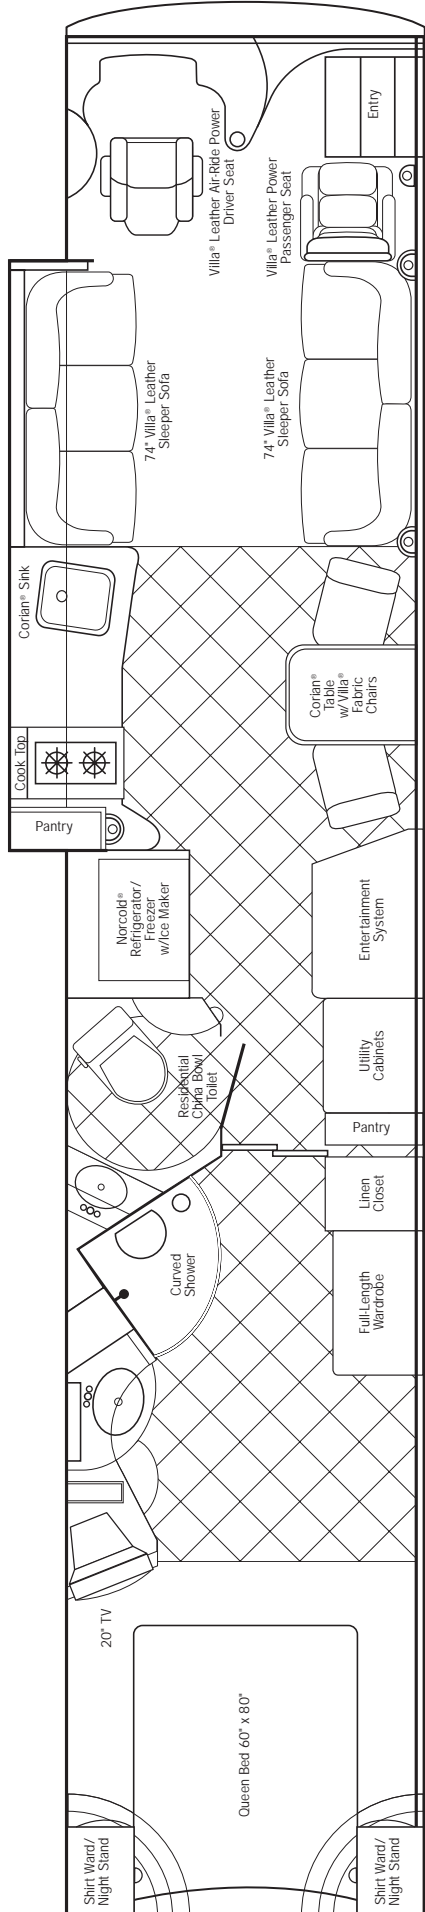

Notre Dame's playing? There's no need to scurry indoors when you have this optional 27" Sony® color television outside. It's mounted on a slide-out swivel tray so you can easily block out sun glare. Other options include a Sony® AM/FM radio and cassette player, two stereo speakers, and a phone jack.

While you're appreciating the beauty of the American Heritage, don't overlook the less obvious (but no less important) features. Like a Sony® rear vision camera with audio hookup. An audible reverse warning system. A heavy-duty trailer hitch with 10,000 lb. capacity. A lighted chrome and rubber rock guard. An Onan® 10 kw Quiet Diesel generator. The list goes on and on.
